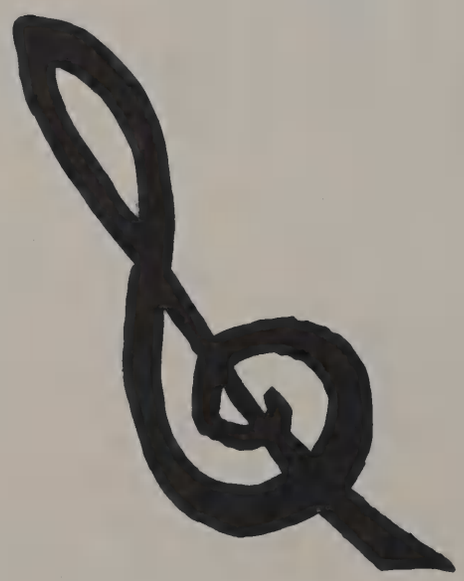
FORSYTHE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Ann Arbor, Michigan

Cover design by Aimee Tsao

Say it with Music



The fast pace of modern life is evident at Forsythe. The rhythms of our society and the ups and downs of life coincide with music. Combining the pulsating rhythm of school activities, the steady rhythm of academic work, and the heightened rhythm of sports, a basis for our society is created. We have selected musical themes to reflect this rhythmic study in diversity.

"Do You Want to Know a Secret?"

Jim Baker will have his head packaged in a melon package in a melon packaging factory by a fellow melon-headed melon packager.

Some windy day in March, Carol Cole will blow away.

Bill Lavely will develop a new variety of anti-vitamins for height control.

Dave Godwin will appear in "Who's New at the Zoo" trade magazine as trainer of the Marineland dolphins.

Marcia Welch will become a pessimistic, sadistic, old fogie.

Mr. Taylor's class will stop yawning when he stops talking.

Yocumberry Tonic will do nothing for Rog Yocum like what it did for his brother Li'l Abner.

Mr. Parrish will become president of the "Move the Folder Holder" Organization.

Schuy Owens will own the first electronically controlled flea circus.

Tony Perault will become a plume dancer in Paris.

Bill Evans will be a toad tamer in the Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Vicki Parks will become the royal wig-maker of Burundi, a new African nation.

Cleland Child will run for President and will close his inaugural address with "Thanks loads, toads".

Larry Parks will develop an entirely automatic programmed learning system that will make school unnecessary.

Dan Mullaly will paint the gold balls on the end of flagpoles.

The Saga Staff predicts that one of Mr. Carr's predictions will come true.

Ellie Korst will become a grape stomper with the help of her big feet.

Diane Cook will be a hairdresser in one of Ringo Starr's beauty shops.

Bin Wong will be a Geisha Girl in a chop suey house.

Tim Morgan will use his mathematical talent to become a jellybean counter.

Ralph Berry will become a world leader, but we're not saying of which world.

"From Me to You"

Bev Byrn wills her silver hair spray to Mr. Taylor as he plays older roles himself.

The giant lobster of Oxcapoxcamocal wills 14 people to the cooks in the cafeteria.

Becky Davis wills her clarinet case to Gus Stager so he can carry his bass drum around.

Tina Cassara wills her leaky hand-imported fountain pen to Mr. Stangl.

The orchestra wills their fingernail clippings to Mr. Parrish.

Scott Morgan wills his black suede shoes to Bozo the Clown.

Antigone Veeblefeetzer wills nothing to no one because in the first place, she has nothing to will, and second, she doesn't know anyone.

Tanis Clark wills her "brains" to science in hope of finding a new cure for mental disorders.

Marcia Wardell and Ellie Korst will Tony Perault the fringe from their synchronized swimming costumes as he will need something decent to wear when not performing.

Doug Whitehouse wills his laugh to Mr. Taylor.

Wendell Lewellen wills his AuH_20 buttons to Margaret Chase Smith.

Ann Levenick wills the dirt off her cello end pin to Carol Thayer.

Aimee Tsao wills her opera tights to Mr. Carr. (Have fun fishing.)

Deanna Datsko wills her swimming skill to the Evinrude Outboard Motor Company.

The 9th grade Biology class wills Mr. Stangl to the speech correctionist.

Brad Burkhart wills his "Oot-fray Oops-lay" to John Kainlauri.

Mr. Stangl wills Dave Godwin a 4" paint brush.

Mrs. Tank wills her "holey" gymnastic shoes to Margaret Hairston.

Wolf Kotenberg wills his 314,159,265,348,979,323,832,795,028.8 freckles to Dead Earnest.

"THERE, I'VE SAID IT AGAIN!"

Mr. Stipe: "# ? @ % ! *"

Miss Linzie: "Now this is a juicy one"

Miss Gilleran: "Don't touch Miss Gilleran"

Mr. Parrish: "Start at letter B, as in BONEHEAD"

Mr. Cox: "Blank, blankity, blank, blank!" CENSORED

Mr. Stangl: "You don't know what it means any more than I do"
